2. Perry Hagenstein's Files, 1997-1980.

Files pertaining to the American Forestry Association (AFA) that were generated and received by Perry Hagenstein during his tenure as an officer and member of AFA's board of directors from 1980 to 1997. Includes such materials as correspondence, financial statements, memoranda, minutes of meetings, and policy statements concerning AFA awards, board of directors, committees, fund raising programs, membership, organizational structure, policy positions, and program activities. Primary correspondents include other AFA officers and board members, especially Richard W. Behan, Paul Bofinger, Barbara Clark, Lynn Day, Carl Reidel, Rexford Resler, Thomas Ripley, Neil Sampson, Hester Turner, Frank Wadsworth, Scott Wallinger, and Peter Watzek.

Box 113

1997

Includes materials related primarily to fund raising and proposed by-law revisions. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1997.

1996

Includes materials relating primarily to awards, board meetings, fund raising programs, Global Releaf, finances, program development, and a proposed merger of AFA with the Forest History Society, a nonprofit educational institution headquartered in Durham, North Carolina. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1996.

1995

Includes materials relating primarily to awards, fund raising, prospective new board members, program development, and possible merger with the Forest History Society. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1995.

1994

Includes materials relating primarily to board meetings, prospective new board members, AFA's strategic plan, AFA's position on U.S. forest policy, and concerns over revenue shortfalls. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1994.

1993

Includes materials relating primarily to AFA's position on U.S. forest policy, awards, election of officers, revenue shortfalls, and concerns about ensuring ethnic and gender diversity on the board of directors. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1993.

1992

Includes materials relating primarily to membership, revenues, prospective new board members, fund raising, by-law amendments, awards, and AFA positions on: ecosystem management, forest health, old growth logging in the U.S. Pacific Northwest, and the chief of the U.S. Forest Service. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1992.

1991

Includes materials relating primarily to content of American Forests magazine, long-range planning, fund raising, awards, prospective new board members, the Seventh American Forest Congress, AFA programs, and AFA's positions on: U.S. forest policy, the Vento "old growth" bill concerning logging in the Pacific Northwest, and global climate change. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1991.

1990

Includes materials relating primarily to content of American Forests magazine, board nominations, long-range planning, board meetings, AFA's proposed Center for Forest Policy, awards, AFA's support for U.S. Forest Service chief Dale Robertson and his guidance of that agency, and AFA's position on old growth logging in the Pacific Northwest. Hagenstein served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1990.

1989

Includes materials relating primarily to board nominations, the Seventh American Forest Congress, Global Releaf, long-range planning, fund raising, AFA's National Forest Task Force, AFA's forestry and resource management policy, and AFA's positions on road building and logging in Pacific Northwest forests. Hagenstein chaired the Elections Committee and served as an ex-officio member of AFA's board of directors in 1989.

1988

Includes materials relating primarily to AFA's Elections Committee, prospective new board members and officers, marketing, fund raising, and AFA's forest policy positions. Hagenstein was AFA's immediate past president in 1988.

1987

Includes materials relating primarily to board meetings, board members, finances, awards, content of American Forests magazine, and AFA's position on U.S. forest policy. Hagenstein was AFA's immediate past president in 1987.

1986

Includes materials relating primarily to board meetings, AFA's position on U.S. forest policy, content of American Forests magazine, concerns about the structure and function of the Association, and financial concerns regarding falling membership. Includes letter from AFA board member Lynn Day dated September 8, 1986 concerning lessons AFA might learn from the financial and programmatic crisis experienced by the Forest History Society during the late 1970s (Mrs. Day was on the Society's board of directors at the time). Hagenstein was president of AFA in 1986.

1985

Includes materials relating primarily to board meetings, AFA programs and policies, awards, content of American Forests magazine, AFA's operating budget, and membership. Hagenstein was president of AFA in 1985.

1984

Includes materials relating primarily to board meetings, AFA programs and policies, awards, membership, content of American Forests magazine, and the Association's executive vice president. Hagenstein was vice president of AFA in 1984.

Box 114

1983

Includes materials relating primarily to committee meetings, board meetings, awards, AFA programs and policies, fund raising, finances, long-range strategic planning, and AFA's position on U.S. forest policy. Hagenstein chaired the Policy Committee and was vice president of AFA in 1983.

1982

Includes materials relating primarily to board structure and members, awards, AFA's policy positions, fund raising, finances, and long-range strategic planning. Hagenstein was a member of AFA's board of directors in 1982.

1981

Includes materials relating primarily to fund raising and membership. Hagenstein was a member of AFA's board of directors in 1981.

1980

Includes materials relating primarily to fund raising and AFA's conservation policy. Hagenstein was a member of AFA's board of directors in 1980.

Seventh American Forest Congress, 1991-1980

Includes materials relating to AFA's role in promoting the need for the convening of a seventh congress.
