Descriptive Summary

Title:	Duke University School of Forestry Lantern Slide Collection,
Dates:	circa 1910s - 1960s
Creator:	Duke University. School of Forestry
Abstract:	The collection includes approximately 900 lantern slides probably collected by the first Dean of the Duke University School of Forestry, Clarence F. Korstian, used in forestry education lectures during his tenure from 1930 to 1959 (and possibly after). Images date from the 1910s through the 1960s, with the bulk from the 1920s-1930s, although many are uncaptioned and could date earlier. The majority depict forestry practices throughout the United States and probably reflect Korstian's early career with the U.S. Forest Service, including his stationing in 1921 at the Appalachian Forest Experiment Station in Asheville, NC; some are from Europe (Germany, Belgium, England, and Switzerland) and document a trip taken by Korstian in 1932, in part to visit forester Carl Schenck. Most slides are hand-colored and matted/mounted.
Extent:	4.0 linear feet(906 glass slides)
Repository:	Forest History Society Library and Archives
Call Number:	7441
Language of Material:	Material in English
